Excellence on the move

The Baillet Latour Foundation was established in 1974, on the initiative of Count Alfred de Baillet Latour. Its aim? To promote, encourage and reward excellence, principally in Belgium, by focussing its work on people.

■ Building a better future

For over 40 years, the Foundation has sought to support initiatives that are remarkable for their influence, the excellence they inspire or their innovative approach to meeting the challenges faced by tomorrow's society.

Its support generates concrete spin-offs with specific future benefits in four areas: health, education, culture and sport.

■ Making a difference

The Health Prize, the Grant for Medical Research or the Environmental Prize, university and sports management chairs, the restoration of iconic elements of Belgium's movable heritage, support for high achievement in music and sport or for initiatives in societal development and citizenship education encourage the involvement of young people in particular... The Foundation contributes on an ongoing basis to the development of projects that make a difference.

■ Dynamism and good governance

With its sights set firmly on the future, the Baillet Latour Foundation is keen to maintain natural discretion, while the hundreds of projects that it has supported since its inception make it a widely recognised, indispensable member of civil society. The backdrop to this commitment is a mode of operation that is absolutely rigorous and ensures good governance.

The General Secretary and President jointly manage its day-to-day work – namely the pre-selection, supervision and monitoring of projects. The Board of Directors, supported by experts of international renown, is then responsible for validating its work and undertakings.
